FIRE PREVENTION CIRCULAR

To All Food and Beverages Outlets,

False fire alarm activations due to staff not adhering to company standard operating procedures

In recent months, there were numerous false fire alarm activations across all three terminal buildings involving F&B staff deviating from their standard operating procedures. The smoke generated led to triggering of smoke detectors causing false alarms, unnecessary panic and disruptions to airport operations.

2 A serious fire outbreak can result from the non-adherence, thereby causing serious harm to staff, members of public and ultimately affecting airport operations. It is also a security threat as suspicious characters may enter restricted area via disarmed security doors.

3 AES Fire Prevention Section (FPS) views such non-adherence as blatant negligence. Errant tenants are liable to be service charged or issued with a close premise order or both.

4 We appreciate your efforts in supporting fire prevention at Changi Airport and hope that you continue to practice a good fire safety culture within your organisation. For further clarifications, you may contact AES Fire Prevention Section at 65412535 or email fire.safety@changiairport.com
